

Consumer Health Data Privacy Notice

Last Updated: December 23, 2024

This Consumer Health Data Privacy Notice (“Notice”) supplements our Privacy Statement regarding our processing of health-related data as defined by some state laws.

If you, or anyone else contacts us to report a potential issue, concern, or complaint related to an adverse experience potentially experienced when participating in a clinical study or trial we are administering, overseeing or otherwise engaged in (any, an “Adverse Experience”), you may provide us with certain health-related data, for example data related to your health-related conditions, symptoms, status, diagnoses, testing, treatments, and procedures (“health data”).

If you contact us to report an Adverse Experience, we will process your health data to investigate and respond to your complaint, to comply with our regulatory obligations, or to establish, exercise, defend a legal claim and for any other purpose required or allowed under applicable law. We may share your health data with parties administering the study, trial or offering a product that is being used in such an activity, agencies that regulate our products (including the Food and Drug Administration, the “FDA”), in conjunction with our obligations to report Adverse Experiences to the FDA.

If you are a consumer in a state with laws specifically offering you privacy rights over your health data, subject to certain exceptions, you may have certain rights related to your health data, including rights to confirm processing and access, delete, or withdraw consent relating to such health data.

You may request to exercise these rights by:

Emailing us at: contact@ARACscience.com

Calling us at: 1 804 323 4905

Writing to us at:

Applied Research and Analysis Company, LLC
Attn: Legal Department
4990 Sadler Place
P.O. Box 2472
Richmond VA 23060

In some cases, we may be unable to fulfill your request. If your rights request is denied, applicable law may give you a right to lodge an appeal with us. The response to your rights request will inform you of any appeal rights you may have and tell you how you can exercise them.

We may revise this Notice from time to time. If we make material changes to this Notice, we will notify you as required by applicable law. By continuing to use our Services after a new Notice takes effect you will be deemed to have accepted its updated terms.
